COL. PARKINSON AND MR. SHAYNE SPEAK, A GREAT GATHERING OF ENTHUSIASTIC REPUB-PUBLICANS AT THE HOME OF LEVI

Ehinebeck, N. Y., Sept. 7 .- One of the most enthustastic Republican mostless ever hold in Rhinebeck, the summer home of Levi P. Morton, assembled this evening, and was addressed by Colonel W. J. Parkinson, of Ballston, N. Y., a veteran of the late war; C. C. Shayne, of New-York, who has already done such good work for the Republican cause in this canvass, and John I. Platt, of Poughkeepsie. Mr. Packinson, who is an carnest and elequent speaker, held the close attention of his hearers for more than an hour, being frequently cheered as he would make his telling hits against the party of English free trade and low wages workingman by increasing his wages, and thus enabling until free trade or emphatic protection him to improve his home, and surround his family with there be any question as to which policy prester comforts, and keep from competition with him interest of this Congressional District? the paurer labor of Europe; and to-day it stands for the strikes down many of the most impa-

"Anxious? They are more than anxious, they are enthusiast c in his favor. Listen to these few towns in most of which clubs or branches of our Anti-Cleviand and Protective League have been started then perhaps you will see what work we have been doing and how widespread is this enthusiasm. Torrington, Conn.; Plattsburg, Danbury, Peru, Valcour, West Chazy, Champlain, Dannemora, Beckmantown, Altona, West Platisburg, Union Falls, Cooperville, Troy, Ausable, Clayburg, Redford, and others. We have these towns flooded with our leaflets and pamphlets especially designed to show why frishmen should not vote on the side of England, which is the Democratic side, and they are having a wonderful effect. In findulo we have two clubs of large membership and well organized and the leaders among the Ir sh-Americans there are confident in the belief that 1.000 more voters of that nationality will be found this time under the Republican standard town in 1884. In Rochester the outlook is equally promising while in Syracuse and Utica, M. J. A SUIT AGAINST W. B. ASTOR'S HEIRS.

THE TEUSTEES OF HIS SON WILLIAM DESIRE A SETTLEMENT OF THEIR ACCOUNTS.

Charles F. Southmayd, Philip Kissam and Henry Day, the trustees to whom William B. Aster, in his will, gave one half of his restillary estate for the benefit of his son, William Astor, for life, with a provision that the principal should go to his issue at his death, nave brought a suit in which all the heirs are made defendants for a settlement of their accounts. They also ask for the direction of the Supreme Court as to investments made by Mr. Astor in securities in which accounting was made in 1877. The heirs of William Aster are his smylving children. Helen Roosevelt, wife of James R. Reosevelt; Char-lette Augusta Drayton, Caroline Schermerhorn Wilson and John Jacob Astor, in, and the four children of Mrs. Emily Van Alon, deceased, who was the wife of John J. Van Alen. Among the papers in the case are long schedules showing a total of $8,791.540 invested in securities, a portion of which are United States bonds. The unpuld balance of executors' commissions due at the last accounting amounted to $246,000. Presiding Justice Van Brunt yesterday granted an order for the service by publication of the summons upon the non-resident defendants, Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, who are in Vienna, and the Van Alen family, who are in Vevay, Switzerland.

AN EX-CONVICT CHARGED WITH THEFT. For some time jewellers in the neighborhood of Johnst, and Maklen Lans have been robbed by a clever Among those who suffered in this way were Ludwig Nisson, No. 18 John-st., Henry Belaire, No. 42 John-st., and Herman Levy, No. 64 Maiden Lane. In each case diamonds were the objects of the thief's attention. On Tuesday a man called on Nisson and said that he wanted to buy some diamonds. While the jeweller was weighing them, fourteen stones, valued at $700, were stolen under Nisson's very eyes. He called in Detectives McNaught and Sheridan, who arrested Henry Adams in Nisson's store.

When asked if he was willing to be searched,
Adams said "Certainly." He also said he would most cheerfully go to Police Headquarters with the detectives. When they got there Inspector Byrnes resognized him. He has served five years in the State Prison. He has also served time in Philadelphia. Adams is a Norwegian and has travelled under the resucces of Lee, Johnson and schwank. Mr. Nisson made a compolant negless that at the Tembs Court yesterday and Adams was remanded.

SANITARY CONDITION OF MT. HOLYOKE SEMI. NARY.

South Hadley, Mass., Sept. 7.-As an official dental of an annoying report, the treasurer and steward of Mount Holyoke Seminary and College, the paster of the Congregational Church, the chairman of the Select men and Health Board, the postmaster and two resident physicians of South Hadley have subscribed to the following circular notice: "Those has been no case of dightheria in the institution, or in the village where it is located. Over a mile distant, in one family, there have been one or two mild cases of that disease, the patients now being resome four or six cases among children, all recovering except two young children, who died ten days or two weeks ago. At South Hadley Falls, thric-and-onehalf miles away, there have been some cases, but the discuse seems now to have passed by. The story that typhoid fever prevails here is utterly false, There is no case of it within our knowledge. There is no other foundation for these evil reports. The sentury condition of Mount Holyoke Sentuary has always been good, and if possible it is now better than ever before,"

AUBUSTED FOR LETTING KING ESCAPE.

James P. Really, the deputy sherif from whom the all-leged forger. Altamons B. King, escaped on Welmesday, was arrested on Thursday afternoon by Detectives Reflix and Kerman, of the District Attorney's office. The deputy was taken before Judgo-Gibbroleeve, charged with maiwas falsen before Judies-Gildersleeve, charged with mal-feasance in effect, and will have a hear to before Judge Gildersleeve on Monlay. Archibalt Gilders, of Mr. Vermon, who has an office at No. 1,330 Broadway, went bail for Redly in the sum of 82,500. Descrive Redly told a reporter that he went to Jersey City and found that the deputy had made a thorough search for King, thus verifying the deputy's story. Redly, it appears, returned to this city the night of the escaps and trootted as that Chargehat, and reported at the Churchest police scatter and to Under-Sheric Sexton.

The detectives say that King's real name is Bernen Leonard, and that he come from a respectable family in Polastiphia. These he was a selesman, but set into trouble and left the city, taking rooms at No. 153 Randhiseve. Jersey City Heights. The detectives believed that Lecture is in the country and will be captured in a week. High King, of Hugh King & Co., whose name Lecture forged on a cheek, fieldmantly deales that Leonard is his
